PROGRAM NAME AND DESCRIPTION

Angel Center for Abandoned Children is a safe-haven, home and oasis for many children who for reasons ranging from abandonment at birth, orphaned and many times rejected by their families would otherwise have nowhere to call home and would receive no care. The Centre serves as a first home for many new-borns who have successfully transitioned into a new family through adoption and at-risk children who have been rehomed and have adapted to their new lives. Currently, the home has 57 children.

It aims to provide the children with food, shelter, medical care, first-class education and a loving family environment. In order to ensure a holistic development model for the children, it would like to develop an integrated model which includes a farm and a school. This will ensure the children are receiving the best of care while being prepared to be responsible citizens in the future. Through this initiative, the Centre will also have a model of self-sustainability. From the most heart-wrenching beginnings, children at Angel Centre are nurtured to become happy, healthy, responsible and independent members of society.

The Asociacion de Diagnosticadas de Cancer de Mama y Ginecologico (ADICAM) provides support for the special difficulties endured by breast and gynecological-cancer diagnosed women in Cangas and neighbouring communities. Breast cancer diagnoses in Spain amount up to 30% of the total female cancers, and while both breast and gynecological cancers demonstrate a high survival rate, both also present a high incidence of physiological and psychological post-illness difficulties.

The organization's main goal is to improve the quality of life of the mentioned collective and, through them, that of the whole community by (1) promoting the early detection of illness, and (2) providing an integral and professional escort for these patients through the whole diagnostic treatment and post-illness difficulties.

The Association of Jehovah's Witnesses in East Africa (AJWEA) is a charitable and not-for-profit religious organization that carries out the Christian religious activities of Jehovah's Witnesses in Kenya, Tanzania, Sudan and South Sudan. The organization's activities include (1) translation of Bibles and Bible-based literature into local vernacular and sign languages for distribution to the public without charge, (2) construction of modest places of worship, and (3) providing humanitarian assistance to those afflicted by natural and man-made disasters, as well as other needs.

The organization proposes to focus on Bible Education in order to help individuals in the community to benefit from the practical lessons provided in the Bible, such as how to enjoy a happy family life or how to care for one's health. The organization also proposes to construct modest places of worship known as "Kingdom Halls" and support disaster relief activities such as providing food, clothing, medicine and shelter to affected communities in the event of a natural or man-made disaster.

Associazione Cometa was founded with the belief that all children and young people have the right to receive adequate education and to have the opportunity to express their potential, regardless of the difficulties they manifest. Cometa works with children and young people to create a system of reception, support, education and work training activities for children and young people in difficult situations.

Cometa developed a range of services in collaboration with public social services to offer support, education and training to children, young people, their families, and their foster families. Altogether about 1,300 children and young people are actively benefitting from Cometa's education, training and support programs.

Aunt Leah's Place helps prevent children in foster care from becoming homeless and young mothers in need from losing custody of their children. To support them on their journey to self-sufficiency, Aunt Leah's Place provides supported housing, job training and coaching on essential life skills.

Aunt Leah's Place works to provide youth with the skills and support that are necessary for young adults to live independently. By providing housing and guidance to young mothers, the charity works to reduce the number of children entering the foster care system.

The Bethel Investment Network is an organization committed to: (1) Providing access to clean safe drinking water, (2) Educating girls from marginalized communities on matters related to sexual reproductive health, Gender Based Violence (GBV), Menstrual Hygiene Management (MHM), and (3) Impacting financial literacy skills through the education of young mothers in Kenya towards financial independence.

Bethel Network aims to empower and educate communities by conducting high impact and data informed poverty reduction programs with specific emphasis on youth, women and persons with disabilities.

The Canadian Federation of Woodlot Owners and International Family Forestry Alliance, in collaboration with UPA International Development, have established a Memorial Award to continue to celebrate and defend woodlot owners' multiple contributions to rural development and solving social, economic and environmental problems.

The organization intends to use the award to support a Research Bursary, awarded each year to a graduate student conducting research on the role of woodlot owners or woodlot owners' associations in rural development or in helping to solve social, economic or environmental problems. In addition, the organization proposes to use the award to support a Travel Bursary for attendance at an international conference on forest land management, in order to help representatives of woodlot owners' associations to participate in applicable international conferences.

The Canadian Sea Turtle Network (CSTN) has worked to conserve endangered sea turtles in Canadian waters. It is a collaborative organization that combines to address the complex challenges to sea turtle survival. The greatest threat to sea turtles in Canadian waters is entanglement and death in commercial fishing gear.

The organization plans to build on the work of educational outreach programming for the general public and educational outreach programming for the commercial fishing community.

The Canadian Wildlife Federation Marine Program identifies and implements actions that will improve the conservation of marine wildlife in Canadian waters. The CWF Marine program focuses on addressing the threats to marine conservation by working with the members of the community who may be the cause of that threat, or who want to be a part of the solution. By collaborating directly with these communities, the organization educates them about the issues and has them take a direct role in identifying the best actions to take to protect these species.

The organization intends to expand the program to end threats to whales and other marine wildlife from entanglement in fishing gear and collisions with ships.

CARE Canada helps women and girls in developing countries lift themselves out of crisis and poverty. CARE is one of the largest humanitarian and development organizations, operating in over 100 countries around the world. While CARE in Ethiopia continues to carry out emergency food relief, its focus has shifted towards addressing the root causes of poverty and vulnerability through longer-term rehabilitation and development. While CARE in Indonesia started in food distribution and infrastructure projects, it has now redirected its efforts towards emergency programming and focuses on disaster risk reduction and emergency response, natural resource management and responding to climate change, as well as health and livelihoods.

Its programs also work on child rights and support at-risk youth. The organization intends to further the Emergency Response Fund, which allows CARE to respond on the ground with life-saving interventions in the immediate aftermath of a humanitarian crisis, and to be there over the longer term to support the recovery of impacted communities.

Catholic Relief Services is an international humanitarian agency that carries out the commitment of the Bishops of the United States to assist the poor and vulnerable overseas. It supports hundreds of transformative projects and is inspired by a mission and guiding principles rooted in Catholic social teaching. The organization works with partners worldwide to improve agriculture, health, education, and peacebuilding across the globe.

It has engaged partners to end poverty, disease, hunger, and injustice for millions of people worldwide. CRS intends to engage the Ethiopian Catholic Church Social and Development Commission (ECC-SDCO) to provide the community living in and around Tullufera Kebele with a clean water supply and high school construction to improve its livelihood. CRS will continue to support ECC-SDCO and provide project oversight and monitoring.

Comox Valley Project Watershed Society is a Canadian organization that responds to requests for small eco-tours in order to educate people in the Comox Valley about the value of the Estuary and its environs.

The organization proposes to continue its outreach activities to the community on shoreline clean-up and update its interactive map of the Comox Estuary to raise awareness of restoration work, and spread information on the history of the Estuary and its importance to the community and the local First Nations. The organization intends to protect and restore local watersheds through the addition of salt marsh, kelp and eelgrass which reduce the amount of carbon in the atmosphere as well as protecting shorelines and homes from storm surges and other effects of climate change. The organization will also educate students and adults on the value of local ecosystems and the restoration work that Project Watershed carries out.

The Consolate Shrine Parish in Kenya has established the Allamano Centre Project, which serves Christians in the community.

The Parish is proposing to buy furniture, beds and bedding, and accessories for this project in order for individuals to hold meetings in furnished halls and offices. The offices and other rooms of this Centre will be used also for counseling sessions, and guests will use the rooms for a fee in order for the proceeds to then feed poor people living in the nearby slums of Deep Sea and Kangemi. The Allamano Centre also intends to provide car parking for parishioners.

Croce Rossa Italiana is the Italian organization of the International Red Cross Movement which is a voluntary organization, with the purpose of health and social assistance both in times of peace and in times of conflict.

Croce Rossa Italiana conducts 7 primary activities: protect health and life; promote social inclusion; prepare communities and respond to emergencies and disasters; cooperate with other members of the International Movement; actively promote the development of young people and a culture of active citizenship; and develop action to effectively prevent and address community vulnerabilities. PROGRAM NAME AND DESCRIPTION

Differently Talented Society of Kenya (DTSK) is an organization that provides a meeting place and resources for families with members on the autism spectrum. The organization has successfully carried out numerous activities, including a health and nutrition workshop for its members; a workshop on persons within autism spectrum; sexuality and puberty milestones; sports days for the children and their caregivers; autism awareness campaigns in seminars, television and radio; and providing distressed families who are our members with food and other household items.

The organization intends to continue with distribution of the food pack in an expanded manner, hold more workshops for parents, and sport days for the children. The organization also proposes to finance capacity building training requests, such as technical skills, tailoring to care givers so that they can open up small businesses to enable them to sustain their families. The organization also aims to include support for prescription medicines, such as anti-convulsants which are a real challenge for some of the parents.

doctorSHARE a non-profit humanitarian organization focused on healthcare and humanitarian aid.

doctorSHARE intends to deliver healthcare access to the people living in the Indonesian islands. The community will be able to get general check-up, laboratory service, pharmacy service, dental check-up (if possible), antenatal care, and if necessary, minor or major surgery. Health promotion activities will be conducted for the community and health workers and cadres living in the areas around the floating hospital operation areas.

Durbanville Children's Home, a safe haven for 144 vulnerable children, is one of the oldest children's homes in South Africa, dating back to 1883. The home has the experience and ability to develop, implement, evaluate and sustain innovative programmes that are based on the unique needs of affected children.

The organization intends to further support its residential care program aimed at avoiding warehousing of children by strengthening their emotional resilience and increasing their capacity for learning and adapting to a rapidly changing world. Funding would be used towards the mission of the organization, specifically being purposed for the recreational program, homework program, skills training, better care, and facility training.

The Ecology Action Centre (EAC) is Atlantic Canada's oldest and largest community based environmental organization. Its vision is a society that respects and protects nature and provides environmentally and economically sustainable solutions for its citizens. It takes leadership on critical environmental issues from biodiversity protection to climate change to environmental justice. It is grounded in community, and a strong voice and watchdog for the environment.

The organization intends to support the Changing Oceans platform. It is the people on the water, the people working at the wharfs and in the fish plants, and those with the most marginal incomes who will be most affected by the rapid changes to our oceans and the resources available. The systems for accessing marine resources and managing ocean use have become a massive, inflexible system that often favours corporate consolidation and profit over food security and coastal community livelihoods.

Education for All Children (EFAC) is a nonprofit, education-to-employment program offering 8 years of scholarships, mentoring and career development to Kenyan secondary and post-secondary students. EFAC is focused on mitigating the opportunity gap for talented primary school graduates who cannot afford to continue their education.

EFAC recognizes that education alone is not enough for children who have only known poverty and have few role models outside their communities. The organization provides scholarships, Bridge Workshops, a robust mentoring process, and employability-training programs to lead EFAC scholars on the path to personal and professional success.

Education Foundation of the High School Affiliated to Renmin University of China was established as a non-public fund raising foundation. The purpose of this Foundation is to promote the overall development of schools and to contribute to the development of basic education.

The scope of the Foundation's public welfare activities includes: (1) establishing scholarships for teachers, scholarships for students, student grants, aid grants, and teaching aids; (2) funding public welfare activities conducive to the development of basic education, such as teaching, scientific research, laboratories, academic research and communication, and talent introduction and training.

The First Assembly Church administers the Derick's Youth Centre, which envisions standing in the gap and creating pathways for a future of hope and restoration for disadvantaged youth in the city supported by a faith community. Derick's Youth Centre connects marginalized youth with trained and caring volunteers who provide mentorship, leadership development, engage in spiritual conversations, and the teaching of practical skills.

Derick's Youth Centre endeavours to help establish life-giving communities and resources to support the city's marginalized youth through a trauma informed outreach approach. It creates appealing, inviting spaces designed to engage young people and to facilitate the development of deep relationships. It provides a safe atmosphere where youth can enjoy healthy meals, participate in programs, and connect to mentors.

Foundation for Mother and Child Health Indonesia, known locally as Yayasan Balita Sehat Indonesia, has been working with the aim to eliminate malnutrition among Indonesian children under the age of five. The organization also works to reduce poverty within communities by: improving health education and income capabilities of mothers, providing pre-primary education and providing access to libraries for the children in the communities they serve.

Foundation for Mother and Child Health Indonesia helps to improve knowledge of pregnancy, birth, and post-natal care among pregnant women with limited access to ante-natal services. The Foundation also provides education to young women to increase overall family health knowledge and raise awareness of women's rights and reproductive health.

The Georgetown University Law Center Office of Campus Ministry serves students from all over the world. It educates the whole person and promotes interreligious understanding to form the global citizen needed for professional practice of law. At Georgetown, the whole person education promotes "the development of the spiritual, intellectual, artistic, social and physical virtues of each person" in a way that specifically includes an integrated psychological and spiritual wellbeing and "makes a significant commitment to ecumenical and interreligious engagement and understanding."

The law school proposes to support the signature whole person education provided by Georgetown University Law Center and programs exploring the intersection of faith, justice, and the law from a myriad of faith perspectives and the spiritual/religious integration required for healthy lawyering in the 21st century.

The German Committee for UNICEF contributes to the Global UNICEF goals through advocacy for child's rights. UNICEF's vision is a world in which every child can grow up in dignity and has the possibility to reach its full potential, and its programmes address the needs of all children.

The organization proposes to provide integrated services for children without parental care who live in three institutions in Khartoum State, Sudan, which is an area highly affected by instances of abandoned children. Stigma associated with bearing a child out of wedlock, and concerns about possible action by the authorities lead mothers to abandon babies on the streets, without seeking professional care for their child. Many orphanages in this area also lack basic infrastructure to ensure positive childhood development for these abandoned children. Funding would be used to address these needs.

A Glimmer of Hope Foundation is a nonprofit organization that helps lift women and children out of extreme poverty in rural Ethiopia. Glimmer believes the best way to affect sustainable change is to tackle all of the unique areas that perpetuate poverty. Rather than focus on a single issue like water or education, Glimmer's unique model of integrated development means that they work across many different sectors to bring deep, lasting change.

Glimmer's holistic approach centers around three primary sectors: Health and Water; Livelihood; and Education to bring about the deepest, most effective impact.

The Global Food Cold Chain Council is an organization focused on expanding sustainable cold chain technology in developing countries around the globe. The organization is proposing a Memorial Research Fund that is dedicated to furthering the mission of the Global Food Cold Chain Council in coinciding with international efforts underway in the Montréal Protocol, the Paris Climate Agreement, and as parts of the initiatives to implement the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals.

The organization intends to advance its objectives of contributing to achieving the Kigali amendment to the Montréal Protocol, reducing emissions and GWP, reducing food waste, and providing safe and affordable cold chains for all, advancing state-of-art refrigeration technologies, and facilitating financing to deploy solutions. As the Fund expands, it intends to provide policy-makers and other stakeholders with a comprehensive picture of industries involved with cold chain and supply.

Goonj is focused on stabilizing and building sustainability in India through the Vaapsi initiative (Restoring livelihood). Vaapsi is an approach adopted post-disaster which not only gives meaningful employment locally, but also makes a dent on forced migration. A detailed survey with the community helps in really understanding the need of the community. The next step would be to identify and make a blueprint of village level occupations popular in that area. Through all the data collected, traditional occupations are identified, and occupational kits and micro-businesses are set up. Since the initiative is launched mostly after disasters, mapping of local community members' skills who lost their tools and other necessary equipment to earn a living becomes important to revive their livelihood opportunities.

One of the main targets of the Vaapsi initiative is to identify people who possessed skills but could not afford tools or to set up their business.

Hand in Hand International aims to fight poverty through grassroots entrepreneurship. Hand in Hand works to create financially strong families and support women to earn the money and secure the power to make decisions for themselves and the people they love. Their long-term goal is to eradicate poverty in the communities where they work.

The organization works with governments, corporate partners and like-minded NGOs to provide communities and individuals with business and skill training, microfinancing and access to bigger markets. Hand in Hand has had an enormous impact thus far, training 2.81 million members and launching 2.74 million micro-businesses.

Happy Hearts Indonesia is a non-profit organization that envisions every child in Indonesia should have access to education by attending safe and earthquake-resistant schools.

Happy Hearts Indonesia identifies schools affected by natural disasters and communities in need, then rebuilds them to provide a safe and secure learning environment. Rebuilt schools are equipped with indoor furniture, stationeries, educational toys, outdoor playground and sanitary facilities. It engages local government, organizations and the community to ensure long-term support for the maintenance and development of the school, and by extension, the community.

Hope for Justice was started to raise awareness of modern slavery in the UK, and to take a proactive approach in identifying, rescuing and supporting victims of modern slavery. Hope for Justice is a global organization, implementing anti-slavery programs across five continents. Hope for Justice operates a proven multi-disciplinary model based on the principles of social justice, which puts the beneficiary at the core of any intervention.

The organization not only offers an in-depth professional training to government stakeholders, but has also provided technical assistance for partners and stakeholders. Hope for Justice exists to end modern slavery by preventing exploitation, rescuing victims, restoring lives, reforming society and capacitating governments and stakeholders.

The IDEP Foundation works in manifesting community resilience in all areas in Indonesia, especially in remote areas. The work involves emergency response to those affected by disasters, community recovery, and preparedness to face future disasters.

The IDEP foundation will work to improve the livelihood of children using the cattle cooperative strategy to become self-sustainable and support an additional 100 families each year. Additionally, 100 health cadres in 25 villages will be provided with skills, tools, equipment, and better facilities to improve their service to the babies, children, and expectant mothers in their villages. Also, 120 recharge wells will provide a lifetime of water need to more than 1,000 people, followed by implementing additional waste and water management practices in Bali.

The Ignazio Buttitta Foundation is a foundation that contributes to preserving and enhancing considerable international activity in the archaeological field and its initiatives regarding the promotion of cultural heritage in Sicily.

The foundation intends to support public use of the library, a catalog of volumes and digitization of documental materials. It also will support international study conference organization, awards and scholarships, and archaeological research campaigns in Sicily.

Institucion Asistencial, A.C. is a civil society association dedicated to providing help and social assistance to families and patients with limited resources, providing them with temporary shelter, meals, as well as access to bathrooms, laundry, medicine delivery and food pantries. The organization's beneficiaries are economically deprived vulnerable people from marginalized communities: the majority do not have access to education, much less to health.

Funding would be used to improve the organization's facilities, which are in need of refurbishment, as well as acquire additional food supplies that allow the organization to provide basic healthy meals to the beneficiaries who come to the center for support.

Institute of International Education is a nonprofit whose mission is to help people and organizations leverage the power of international education to thrive in today's connected world. The Institute focuses on work that advances scholarship, builds economies, and promotes access to opportunity.

Indonesian International Education Foundation (IIEF) was established in 1982 with the aim to promote the development of Indonesian people and institutions through international education. The program will provide education funds to the children and young members of the impacted families. This financial support will be used to assist the students to pay their tuition fees and to cover other school necessities, aiming to significantly assist the continuity and sustainability of their education. In addition the program will fund mentorship sessions and equip these students with personal and professional development skills.

Link Community Development International is a family of organizations working to transform education for children and communities across impoverished rural areas of Ethiopia, Malawi, Rwanda, and Uganda through innovative, low-cost and replicable models.

Link Community Development International works directly with schools, communities, and government to provide support and training for more effective teaching, improved school management, increased community engagement and better learning outcomes.

Margherone Fa Cose Onlus aims to support as many young adults as possible and include them in a regular social environment.

The organization proposes to move people with disabilities from their families based in Rome to structured new homes, near Orbetello, in Tuscany. All the designated new homes are managed by healthcare professionals which will supervise and assist the users during their daily activities (e.g. personal health care, meals preparation, gardening, etc.) to promote their independence.

Medecins Sans Frontieres (MSF) UK is an international, medical, humanitarian organisation that exists to save lives and ease the suffering of people caught in acute crises, restoring their ability to rebuild their lives and communities. MSF UK works where other organisations do not, providing medical assistance to those who need it most.

Amongst many initiatives, some of their most notable work involves providing basic healthcare, performing surgeries, fighting epidemics, and conducting vaccination campaigns. In 2019, MSF conducted medical activities across 72 countries, and the organization aims to continue to assist those in need whenever the moment arises.

Medici Senza Frontiere (MSF) Italy is an independent, global movement providing medical aid where it's needed most. The organization seeks to provide high-quality care and to act always in the best interest of patients; to respect their confidentiality, their right to make their own decisions and above all, to do them no harm. When medical assistance alone is not enough, MSF provides shelter, water and sanitation, food or other services.

To cope with the dramatic outbreak and Covid-19 crisis in Italy, MSF has launched a set of projects aimed to provide infection and prevention control in all the most vulnerable layers of population. Specifically MSF teams on the ground have been implementing training to medical staff working with the elderly in retirement houses, homeless and migrants in makeshift camps, and in prisons (prisoners, agents, health workers). Funding would continue to support these initiatives.

The Medical University Vienna is one of the most renowned medical training and research facilities in Europe and is the largest medical training institute amongst the German-speaking nations. The University's program educates and develops medical doctors and endeavors to provide the best possible pre-requisites for entering the medical profession and the optimal foundations for post-graduate training in all medical specialties.

The Medical University Vienna is proposing to construct a Student Lounge within the Medical University Library, where medical students undertake their clinical studies. The Student Lounge will provide a physical environment to foster the development of the medical student community. It will facilitate the transition of the library from a space filled with bookshelves to a place that includes areas for social exchange, academic collaboration and cooperation. It will create a specifically student-dedicated environment where students can study, relax, connect, and exchange knowledge and ideas.

Morning Star Ministries has empowered over 500 families and 3200 children in Kiambu County with the tools and confidence they need for a stronger family and a brighter future. Many of the children in this community were living in very desperate situations; parents die young, children could not go to school, and many were being exposed to disease and suffering malnutrition.

The Ministries intends to help further education, complete farming projects and training, help in emergency relief and psychological first aid, sports and children activities.

The Muslim Center for Peace and Reconciliation's (MCPR) administers the "Yes We Believe" school mentorship program, an ambitious four years program that is aimed at transforming the lives of 40 young students from the less fortunate families and marginalized communities currently living in the slums in Kibra- Nairobi. This will be done throughout their academic and career life in education scholarship and leadership mentoring program.

The organization aims to nurture the scholarship prowess, talents, and leadership for the vulnerable, poor and needy students who may be bound to stay at home and miss the opportunity to bring out the desired changes in their lives and the community at large. The program will offer comprehensive support for the young scholars through provision of tuition fees, boarding fees, text and exercise books, school uniform, shopping, pocket money and transport to and from school during their 4 years of secondary education.

Nobody to Somebody is a charity organization that fosters and supports widows and orphans in Northern Uganda. The general objectives are to reduce poverty through education and to support vulnerable women in Northern Uganda that have been affected by the civil war. The mission is two-fold: (1) to help the poor and disadvantaged by supporting the education of poor and vulnerable children, and (2) help widows and HIV-affected women earn an income. The organization currently provides free education to most of the poor and vulnerable primary pupils in the Shalom Primary School and a Nursery School in the Nwoya District.

BCIF funding would be used to pay for educational, counselling and mentoring expenses, and provide underprivileged individuals with nutritious food, clean water, health care, suitable clothing, pay for rentals and other basic amenities.

SOS Children's Villages (SOS) is an organization focused on addressing the needs of some of the most vulnerable children in the world: those who are at risk of losing the care of their family, and those who have been orphaned or abandoned.

SOS programs include day care and community centers, women's economic empowerment programs, youth employability, educational and vocational trainings programs, alternative family-based care for orphaned and abandoned children, health clinics and emergency relief projects in the Oromia and Somali regions. The organization intends to support the Keranyo Day Care and Community Center program, which was designed to respond to the needs of vulnerable migrant families, especially female-headed households and their children. These needs will include protecting children from child labor, neglect, abandonment, and trafficking; and providing mothers and other female caregivers with the skills they need to be empowered and care for their family.

Stepping Stones International has long been involved in improving English literacy tutoring in Botswana. The mission of the organization is to continue the foundation that has been established and extend literacy services to more children at the Stepping Stones International Center and in schools across the country. The students at SSI are vulnerable or orphaned and even at more risk of not passing as they do not have the required parental support and guidance in their education. The current primary English curriculum in Botswana also does not explicitly teach learners the skills and competencies necessary to become proficient readers. As a result, most primary school learners read 3 to 4 grades below their current grade level.

Stepping Stones International is proposing to improve English literacy of children in Botswana in order for them to pass their examinations and proceed to University or attain employment. The program offered at SSI will allow the students to progress in school and affect their careers and life paths.

Stop TB Partnership is leading the way to a world without tuberculosis. Founded in 2001, the Partnership's mission is to serve every person who is vulnerable to TB and ensure that high-quality diagnosis, treatment, and care is available to all who need it.

The Tara Ocean Foundation, a foundation dedicated to the Ocean in France, develops an open, innovative and pathbreaking science to help predict and better anticipate the impact of climate change. Its scientific expertise of the highest level also contributes to the awareness and education of young people, mobilizes policy makers, and helps developing countries to access this new knowledge.

The Tara Ocean Foundation will work to map plastic distribution in the Atlantic basin, identify or infer the putative sources, especially from watersheds, analyze the interaction between the plastics and the microbiome services or quantify their transfer up in the pelagic food web and down towards deep ocean layers. Economic valuation can also help to highlight the other often unrecognized benefits to society that stem from marine ecosystem services, such as carbon sequestration and food provision. Expressing the value of these benefits in monetary values raises awareness of the importance of the marine environment for society and economies.

Teman Baik, meaning "Good Friends" in Indonesian, is the Indonesian branch of the Friends-International organization. Friends-International is a leading social enterprise saving lives and building futures of the most marginalized children & youth, their families and their communities in Southeast Asia and across the world.

Teman Baik provides immediate support to marginalized children and families in Jakarta, Indonesia with particular regard to economic self-sufficiency. The program supports caregivers and youth to obtain skills and to generate stable income through micro-enterprise development and job placement. Teman Baik also implements ChildSafe Agent training and local campaigning in Jakarta to respond to reports of children in distress.

The BOMA Project is a nonprofit organization and Kenyan NGO that empowers women in the drylands of Africa to establish sustainable livelihoods, build resilient families, graduate from extreme poverty, and catalyze change in their rural communities.

BOMA's gender-focused approach helps pastoral families by mapping the barriers to overcoming extreme poverty and then implementing a series of sequenced interventions with a defined exit strategy. Through community consultation, coaching, and gender-focused life skills and human rights training, BOMA aims to improve financial inclusion and access to credit among its members.

The Family Centre has been acting on an urgent need to improve the well-being for children through various helping services. The therapeutic and counselling services of the organization have evolved to strengthen children and families in Bermuda. Due to the complex needs of families, the following services are provided: screening, assessment, intensive counselling services (in home, school, and community settings), and family support services (case management & client advocacy).

The organization's reputation for confidentiality and meeting families where they are, maintaining a non-judgmental approach, means that families who would not otherwise reach out for help are accessing the services they need. Roughly 3,000 families in Bermuda are suffering from unaddressed multigenerational trauma and this impacts how these individuals and their families function on a day to day basis, and how they contribute to Bermuda's community as a whole.

FortWhyte Alive is dedicated to providing programming, natural settings, and facilities for environmental education, outdoor recreation, and social enterprise. It promotes awareness and understanding of the natural world and actions leading to sustainable living, and FortWhyte Farms, a social enterprise of the organization, is committed to growing food, youth and community. The organization incorporates food handling training and a burgeoning program in the trades as the mechanism for youth to overcome employment obstacles and develop important life skills.

The organization intends to directly assist the youth that work on the farm. In doing so, the organization intends to deepen food security in Manitoba by enabling FortWhyte Farms to purchase the necessary seeds, food, and equipment they use to teach youth about food security - not only how to create meals, but also how to grow food in a way that is sustainable for the environment.

The Magdi Yacoub Heart Foundation (MYF) offers high quality, free of charge medical services to the underprivileged of Egypt and the region, and trains doctors, scientists and nurses at the highest international standards. The hospital, Aswan Heart Centre, is one of the few cardiac specialized centres in the region meeting the growing challenge of cardiovascular disease, treating 4,000 patients annually. The foundation has started building the Magdi Yacoub Global Heart Centre – Cairo (MYGHC) to keep up with demand. MYGHC will allow for the treatment of 12,000 patients per year, which is three times the current amount of treatments.

The foundation intends to use the funding to continue with the general construction of the new hospital. With the building of the new hospital, the foundation will be able to provide thousands of underprivileged patients with the treatment they need, free of charge.

Founded in 1915, The Nature Conservancy is a global environmental nonprofit organization that has four fundamental missions: address climate change, protect land and water resources, provide for food and water sustainability, and build healthy cities. The Conservancy promotes clean energy and inspires conservation by sponsoring scientific research and working with governments to promote process changes and environmental improvements. The organization provides policymakers and activists with important data, studies and findings to support conservation efforts as well as provide transition solutions for governments, populations and indigenous peoples so that change can take place in a more natural, supportive way. Similarly, The Nature Conservancy invests in the development of healthier cities through focused research and policy support as well as sponsored reviews of ongoing initiatives.

At the forefront of the worldwide environmental movement, The Nature Conservancy has published a number of scientific reports that underlie international joint efforts to reduce the effects of pollution, erosion and the overuse of resources. Significant efforts have been made to protect the world's natural resources including active oversight of over 103 million acres of land across the globe and more than 100 marine projects worldwide. The Conservancy has developed approach to optimize the global food system and resource recovery on an extensive scale. The Youth Engagement Team is integral to the effort to ensure the next generations are committed and knowledgeable regarding the challenges facing the world's environment today.

Vancouver Island University Foundation supports Vancouver Island University (VIU), a multi-campus teaching university located in British Columbia, Canada. VIU is recognized as a leader in its commitment to personalized teaching and learning, social responsibility, indigenous people, and employee wellness.

The VIU Foundation is establishing an endowment fund that will give indigenous students in need a hand up. Through the endowment, VIU students, and in particular indigenous students who have a history of community involvement and environmental advocacy, will be supported every year by financial awards in education and the environment. The VIU Foundation is working to raise enough funds to support both awards in perpetuity and create a lasting legacy.

ThinkWell Institute (ThinkWell) is proposing a fellowship program to identify talented health professionals to make improvements in the health and well-being of their local communities. ThinkWell will design and execute a fellowship to strengthen health service continuity in Kenya & Indonesia. The goal of this fellowship program is to enable individuals in local communities to support their most vulnerable populations with their basic health needs. The program aims to identify, support, and elevate promising local health professionals to create humanitarian impact in their communities and improve health outcomes for the most vulnerable populations.

The Program will target two countries, Kenya and Indonesia. These countries were selected based on the following criteria: community impact from the crashes, ongoing response and recovery needs, and existing ThinkWell country presence. These criteria combine to give the program the greatest sustainable impact on both health and education for these communities.

TSV Ohrnberg 1921 e.V. is a 700 members public sports club and non-profit organisation located in the 600 inhabitants village of Ohrnberg in the rural area called "Hohenlohe", in the southwest of Germany. Attracting the youth of even smaller and smallest places around the village, the club serves as both, place of physical education and social kit on the countryside, where today not many alternative opportunities are provided for children and adolescents to spend their leisure time in a meaningful and supportive social environment.

The organization plans to use the funds to install a skate park dedicated to its youth section and the younger supporters.

Twins International's mission is to launch programs that can guarantee adequate nutrition and education to an increasing number of orphaned children in Kenya. One of these programs, Alice for Dandora, is a 360-degree program that aims to give a future to the children living at the foot of the Dandora landfill by way of school education, informal education, nutrition, medical care and social assistance.

Since 2013, the organization has supported Claires Primary School, which is located in the slum of Dandora. Funding will be used for developing and expanding its intensive educational program for pupils who attend our primary school. Funding will also be used to support the organization's reintegration efforts for older children through the Alice Music Academy and Food for Life initiative which provides food, medical and social support to families in need.

UNICEF Belgium's mission is to draw all necessary attention from the general public, companies and governments to children's rights in general, and UNICEF programs in particular.

The organization plans to apply BCIF funds towards its 'Fight against child poverty' program, which aims to address and combat increased instances of child poverty caused by COVID-19 complications and restrictions."

UNICEF Canada stands for every child, everywhere. UNICEF is the world's farthest-reaching humanitarian organization for children. Across 190 countries and territories, and in the world's toughest places, UNICEF works day in and day out to help children survive, defend their rights, keep them protected, healthy and educated, and to give them a fair chance to fulfill their potential. UNICEF Canada was founded in 1955, and is one of 33 National Committees located in countries around the world.

UNICEF is guided by the 1989 Convention on the Rights of the Child, advocating for the protection of children's rights, helping to meet their basic needs, and giving them a fair chance to reach their full potential.

UNICEF USA will support its humanitarian programs in Ethiopia and Indonesia. In Ethiopia, UNICEF's humanitarian response plan covers the needs of more than 300,000 refugees. The UNICEF Ethiopia and Indonesia Country Offices will be able to strategically implement programs that address the most critical needs for the most vulnerable children in those countries.

The organization intends to support the most vulnerable communities with essential health supplies, remote learning, prevention and treatment of acute malnutrition, child protection services and access to water, sanitation, and hygiene. Strategies include community engagement; improvement of infection prevention and control; distribution of critical health supplies; and addressing the secondary impacts of the pandemic on education, child protection and early childhood development.

Vmeste Detyam's (Orphaned and Parentless Children's Charitable Fund "Together for Children") mission is to promote effective and comprehensive support of children left without parental care and special needs children and graduates of orphanages, prevention of social orphanhood, strengthening the prestige and role of the family in modern society.

The organization proposes to support its main projects, which consist of: volunteering for orphans and children with special needs, providing support for families facing difficult life circumstances, and promoting the sport of Futsal in schools.

Water First is a charitable organization focused on addressing and resolving water challenges in Indigenous communities in Canada through education and training. The organization supports sustainable water systems to last generations and is working toward closing the gap in water science education and helping to remove barriers to education faced by Indigenous youth and young adults. Their goal is to build greater water science capacity in drinking water and environmental water work within Indigenous communities in Canada.

Many Indigenous communities experience significant challenges finding qualified individuals to fill water science positions. And in far too many Indigenous communities, there is a lack of opportunities for young adults to gain relevant skills and experiences. The organization intends to reach more youth and communities with programs that specifically address community needs, leading to safe, clean water in Indigenous communities.

Waterlution is an organization focused on climate change. Through its Cautious Optimist Project, youth can regain optimism and a sense of control by feeling more skilled and prepared to face Earth's forthcoming unstable climate.

The organization intends to support the development, documentation, writing and material costs associated with engaging young environmental leaders in deepening the Cautious Optimist Initiative, and broadening its reach by hosting skill-sharing workshops. It also proposes to create an online library of life skill-teaching videos to accompany the blogs, extending the time horizon available for many interested individuals to tune in and learn. The skills learned such as gardening and repairing appliances support the farm to table approach, and waste reduction movements. In addition, this project will teach people around the world how they can make a difference in combating climate change through their lifestyle.

The Winnipeg Trails Association is an organization that will partner with the Immigrant and Refugee Community Organization of Manitoba (IRCOM) to continue the Winnipeg Trails' Indigenous-led Healing Trails program and the Plain Bicycle Project, which will allow 380 people/families to own a bicycle/e-bicycle tailored to their needs, thereby fulfilling the short/medium trip based transportation needs of the equivalent of eight full transit buses full of people for a fraction of the cost of operating even one of the buses.

The organization intends to build on the successful Indigenous-led Healing Trails city rehabilitation programming, PlainBicycle's history of bicycle distribution and Winnipeg Trails and IRCOM's relationship forged through public events and action. It will build on a strong environment of similar workshops at home through like-minded organizations within the community bike shop diaspora.

World University Service of Canada (WUSC) is charitable organization that seeks to improve education, employment and empowerment opportunities for youth and other marginalized people around the world. WUSC works with a unique and powerful network of post-secondary institutions, corporate partners and volunteers to create a more inclusive, equitable and sustainable world for youth. WUSC's vision is to create a world where all young people can grow up in safe, secure and supportive environments; where they can learn, work and play a vital role in their country's development.

The organization proposes to partner with the Malawian organization, There is Hope, to provide life-changing education and training opportunities to marginalized young Malawians and refugees, improving their chances to gain income, and contribute to their families and communities. There is Hope's mission is to see refugees and their host communities escape poverty and become self-reliant, including through increasing access to accredited vocational training programs. The organization intends to pursue full-year vocational skills training programs for dozens of Malawian and refugee youth. A particular focus will be on supporting women to enroll in these programs.

The Yayasan Arraisyah Alhams Center provides educational scholarship programs, social care programs, family support programs, and spiritual development programs across Indonesia. These programs cater to poor and lower income families, as well as populations in need of added support and rehabilitation. Funding would be used to support the basic needs of the people it serves, provide additional educational resources and opportunities for local communities, as well as be used for the acquisition of land, buildings, and equipment to provide aid to more families and further develop the reach of its established programs.

Yayasan Usaha Mulia (YUM) is a registered charitable organization in Indonesia, and today runs various projects in West Java, Central Kalimantan, and Central Sulawesi. YUM's vision and mission is to work with communities in providing support in the areas of health, education, and community development in order to improve the quality of life of the poor and destitute in Indonesia.

The target population of YUM's projects are individuals (of all ages, religion, gender and ethnicity) and families living under poverty. The projects run by YUM use a holistic approach in providing services to those in need, starting from basic health and nutrition for babies and toddlers, educational activities from early childhood to vocational skills for vulnerable youths, women empowerment through skills training, strengthening family livelihood through food security, and providing access to basic needs such as clean water and sanitation.

You and I is a nonprofit organization focused on Education plus Leadership (E+L). It works on creating spaces to provide relevant capacity building skills, tools and knowledge to its youth participants empowering them to be better leaders for social transformation and economic growth in Africa. This is all in an effort to promote cross-national cooperation on education, employment, social entrepreneurship and civic participation.

The organization coordinates all leadership programs that will cultivate the next generation of world's leaders in business, governance, public service, academia, religious organizations and NGOs. It hopes to impact more than one million lives in Africa in the next 30 years.

ZLT Hope Homes provides safe shelter and support to orphaned and abandoned children, mentorship to vulnerable youth, and assistance to children and families affected by childhood sexual abuse. It seeks to strengthen communities, aiding children in vulnerable conditions struggling with the effects of childhood trauma. Its goal is that every child and youth supported by ZLT Hope Homes will become a responsible and dignified adult with core values that empower them to be successful and contributing members of society.

The organization proposes to promote holistic rehabilitation and support for children and youth affected by neglect, abandonment, childhood trauma and sexual abuse. It aims to maintain operations of the organization's safe house inclusive of nutritional programs, quality education, medical treatments, and support the hiring of a full-time counsellor to aid survivors of adolescent sexual violence in their healing.
